ABOUT ME

With over 22 years of first-hand travel experience, I know that the perfect holiday looks different for everyone. Whether you're looking for a last-minute escape, a family getaway, or planning the trip of a lifetime, I take the time to understand what you're looking for and use my knowledge, experience and trusted recommendations to find the right trip for you. From finding a great deal to creating something truly unforgettable, my aim is simple, to make sure every holiday feels like it was made just for you.

FAVORITE HOLIDAY MEMORIES

Some of my favourite travel memories have been made with family and friends. From girls' holidays filled with late nights, long days and plenty of laughter, to the freedom of the open road on campervan adventures across the USA. I've chased snowy adventures skiing in the French Alps, experienced the magic of kangaroos and incredible wine in Australia, and discovered a love for the sunshine, flavours and unforgettable food of the Mediterranean. For me, travel is about so much more than the destination, it's the experiences, the people, the stories and the memories you bring home with you.
